

Promises Made and Promises Kept

A child can be

The delight in me:

A child to be

Or the child in me.

A child whose eyes

Can carve into me

The time it takes

To tease with me

With sounds that toy

And play to weave

Moments of magic

Made just for me.

And there are promises made

And promises kept

Written with the wave

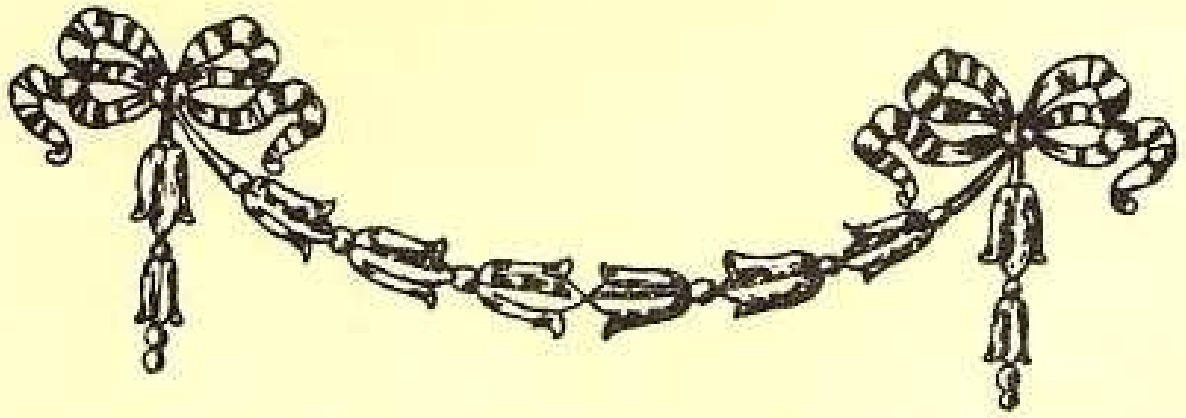

Of but a tiny hand

And softly spoken

With a smile,

w.c. anderson

Bill and LeVonna Anderson are happy to announce the birth of our daughter,
Annie Angelina Anderson.
She came into this world
on December 29, 1983 20 inches long
weighing 7 pounds 7 ounces

